« You don't tame the Dakar, but you prepare for it. And if the baptism includes all the characteristics of an event, it should not turn into an agony. We are therefore primarily addressing beginners in rally-raids with this training program which includes the Andalucía Rally and then the Rallye du Maroc, according to several modalities, before reaching the Dakar. These two events are as much stepping stones as satellites to the Dakar, in a discipline that is undergoing a major transformation. Opening it up to young people and making it more accessible is the objective of these offers that we are proposing in a new sporting and commercial dynamic. »

LEVEL 2

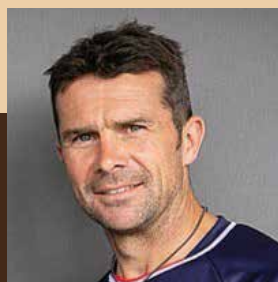

PARTICIPATION IN A TRAINING COURSE DURING THE RALLYE DU MAROC (WPT/cap-medium and off-road navigation, dune driving and race management).

Subject to the approval of the coaches at the end of the course.

PARTICIPATION IN THE RALLYE DU MAROC

(WPT/cap-medium and off-road navigation, dune driving and race management) Subject to the approval of the coaches at the end of the rally.

« There is no easy way to prepare for the Dakar, but there are ways to learn how to get there with the best chance of achieving your goals. I know the level of commitment to which most newcomers to the rally rise, sometimes by putting unnecessary effort and pressure on themselves. My experience of 13 Dakar Rallies on a motorcycle and 6 in a car allows me to give them advice and tips, ranging from small details concerning life in the bivouac to the main training principles that should guide all pilots. I am now driven by the desire to transmit and share this knowledge. See you in Andalusia. »
